

A48: unconditional offers

ACM (The Academy of Contemporary Music)'s perspective on unconditional offers:

The Academy of Contemporary Music (ACM) is a specialist music industry educator. In the last application cycle, every applicant to ACM's higher education programmes had their application assessed by way of interview and/or audition by one of our specialist tutors, where the passion, capability, character, and commitment of each individual was assessed in a multitude of ways, comprising both one-to-one and group activity. We are therefore assured and clear that where an unconditional offer has been issued to an applicant by ACM, it is because the institution has deemed the candidate to be of exceptional quality, and well suited to our unique study environment.

Definitions of offer types:

Unconditional offer

This is an offer made by a provider where they are satisfied that an individual has demonstrated sufficient attainment and potential to succeed on their chosen programme. Based on the offer status at the 30 June application deadline.

Conditional unconditional offer

An offer made by a provider which was originally conditional, but becomes unconditional if the applicant selects that offer as their firm (first) choice. By definition, conditional unconditional offers that are selected as a firm choice by the applicant become unconditional and are also included in the unconditional offers group (see above).

Offer with an unconditional component

All offers showing as having an element of unconditional offer-making, that is, unconditional offers plus conditional unconditional offers that have not been selected as firm (and hence remain conditional unconditional).

All offers

All offers made by the provider, subject to the coverage of this report. This includes conditional as well as unconditional offers to 18-year-old main scheme applicants domiciled in England, Northern Ireland, and Wales.

Technical note:

The coverage of this report is limited to offers made by 30 June, to 18-year-old main scheme applicants domiciled in England, Northern Ireland, and Wales. This is because these applicants are least likely to apply already having achieved a full set of qualifications typically required for undergraduate higher education.
